Hugh range of options

Curtain Walling systems provides the perfect solution for the external cladding of any building capable of allowing in large amounts of natural light through large expanses of Clear Glass, creating a feeling of space and providing the perfect interface with the outside world whilst maintaining the safety, security and comfort levels of the buildings internal environment for the benefit of its occupants.

Structural Glazing systems are a brilliant and cost effective alternative for Architectural Glass Designs. Structural Glazing systems consist of glass with partial or full frame and are structurally glazed/adhered to the outside surface resulting in a flush external finish.

A Metal Curtain Wall is an exterior Curtain Wall that consists of metal, or a combination of metal, glass and other surfacing materials supported within a metal framework.

A Window Wall is a type of metal curtain wall which is installed between floors or between floor and roof. It consists of vertical and horizontal framing members.
